History

Established in 1970, MattGabi is the British brand of choice for luxury bespoke furnishings for both private and trade clients. MattGabi has grown from a small workroom in North West London to worldwide international acclaim, working on projects in Doha Qatar, Monte Carlo, Switzerland, Italy, New York and the Bahamas. Over the years we have grown and established a healthy working relationship with both our private and trade clients, always aiming to exceed their expectations. 2005 saw the launch of MattGabi first showroom set in the heart of Chelsea, London.

Clients

MattGabi is a trade outlet that aims to give competitive prices to those involved in interior design and the fabrics industry. Amongst others, our portfolio of private clients include Kensington Palace, the residences of the Irish, Canadian and UAE ambassadors, as well as work on the homes of top fashion designer Karen Millen, actor Sean Connery, Dave Stewart and many more.

Quality

All our upholstered furniture, soft furnishing and joinery work is hand made. We select and use the finest materials, high quality fabrics, Italian wood veneers and traditional upholstery methods. We are best utilized when working on private & trade projects requiring attention to detail and quality!

A woman with long, wavy brown hair is seated on a high-backed, upholstered bar stool. She is wearing a long-sleeved, patterned dress with a mix of brown, orange, and white tones. Her right hand rests on the back of the stool in front of her, and her left hand is on a surface to her right. The setting is a modern interior with a dark wood shelving unit in the background. The shelves hold various decorative items, including framed photographs, a silver pitcher, and a vase of colorful flowers. The bar stools have a light-colored, textured upholstery and a dark wood base. The overall atmosphere is sophisticated and contemporary.
